

THE COMMONWEALTH.

Thursday, August 24, 1882. ENTERED AT THE POST OFFICE AT SCOTLAND NECK, N. C., AS SECOND-CLASS MAIL MATTER.

D. E. STAINBACK, EDITOR.

The white and colored Republican aspirants for State Legislative honors are having a lively time of it.

One of the best men the Republican party have nominated for office is Jno. A. Moore, of Halifax. He is far too good a man to be in such bad company, and the fact that he is on the wrong side of the fence will in itself defeat him.

Hubbs' friends have published a card to the effect that he (Hubbs) is the regular Republican candidate for Congress in this district, and O'Hara's friends and followers have done the same thing.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

If there is any system practiced among men that is hateful, it is the Internal Revenue, or we might term it the Internal Revenue system. It is based upon the trade of spies, eaves-droppers and informers, and the Democratic party demands its entire abolition.

Overworked men and women, persons of sedentary habits, and others whose system needs recuperation, nerves toned, and muscles strengthened, should use Brown's Iron Bitters.

with their Federal Courts are sent adrift. Our State courts are stripped of their sovereignty, utterly set at defiance and subordinate to the meanest revenue officer in the service.

The Democratic party says down with such a system, down with the advocates of the ruinous Internal Revenue system.

PLANTER'S ANNUAL CONVENTION AT LITTLE ROCK, ARK.

The approaching Convention of the National Cotton Planters' Association, at Little Rock, Ark., on October 16th, 1882, promises to be one of the largest and most important ever held by the Association.

It is a matter of regret that a combination of circumstances have prevented and will continue to prevent that thorough organization of country and parish branches contemplated by the Association until after the meeting in October.

The various counties of the cotton States, however, will hold meetings and select delegates to represent them in the Convention this October, after which a most thorough system of organization will be instituted by States, and a strong effort made to reap the advantages that must accrue to the planters and landholders of the South thereby.

The principles of the Association have grown with time, and though circumstances, as we remarked above, have combined heretofore to prevent our realizing all the benefits that ere this should have attended its work, the members are none the less determined to carry out the original plans which will give to the agriculturist of the South the greatest organization for general good that has ever been inaugurated.

President Morehead has just paid a visit to Little Rock, Ark., to confer with the officers of the State Fair Association in regard to the transportation of delegates, their reception, entertainment, etc., and was greatly elated over the effort that is being made by those gentlemen as well as by the citizens of Little Rock, to make great success of our October meeting.

The fair grounds of the Arkansas State Fair Association, are undoubtedly the handsomest in the South and beautifully located with a very handsome mile race-track attached. We are assured in the first place, of a grand display of improved machinery and blooded stock, and as one of the attractions, the best running and trotting races ever before seen in the South.

Transportation over all the lines will be reduced one-half, and a strong effort made to have President Arthur and distinguished men present.

We risk nothing in saying the Annual Convention at Little Rock, in October, 1882, promises in all its results to be the most important and largest ever before held by the Association, and believe it will mark a new era in the progress to practical work of the Association.

The welcome by the citizens of Little Rock and the State of Arkansas, will be unbounded.
